REPORT OF POLICE ACTIVITIES

The Conway Municipal Court handled a total of 205 cases in 1947. Of these, 149 resulted from arrests made by members of the Conway police force; the remaining 56 were distributed among State Troopers, the Carroll County Sheriff's Department, special State officials, and police from other nearby towns.

Conway police cases were classified as follows:

Speeding	49
Unregistered motor vehicle	12
Operating without license	10
Failure to stop at "Stop" sign	10
Operating under influence of liquor	7
Reckless operating	6
Failure to have vehicle inspected	6
Failure to keep right	5
Leaving scene of accident	4
Defective equipment of vehicle	4
Improper parking (ordinance)	3
Operating after suspension of license	2
Permitting unlicensed person to operate	2
Miscellaneous motor vehicle infractions	2
Failure to stop for officer	1
Refusing to produce license for officer	1
Failure to answer summons	1
Drunk and disorderly	15
Non-support	3
Assault	2
Disturbing the peace	1
Lewd and obscene language	1
Allowing dog to run loose (Bartlett ordinance)	1
Riding bicycle on sidewalk	1
TOTAL	149

Members of the Conway police force making the foregoing arrests were:

John Malek, Chief of Police
 Joseph J. Bigley, Chief of Police
 Gerald M. Clough, Acting Chief, Officer
 Carl C. McKenney, Officer
 Stetson Archibald, Officer (part time)
 Nat S. Stevens, Special Officer

In addition to the above list of court cases, which does not include juvenile offenders, local police answered hundred of unrecorded calls from residents of the various villages of the town, for a wide variety of causes. Many disputes and disturbances were settled without making arrests, prowlers were frightened away, at least sixty drunks were taken home, and many cars out of gasoline or in other trouble were assisted. Doors of business establishments were tried, and owners notified in 24 instances when they were found unlocked. During the winter months, cars parked on the main streets were moved to permit plowing.

In contrast to the recorded number of arrests, 347 warnings were given for less flagrant motor vehicle violations. Police investigated or assisted in the investigation of 163 accidents, one of which was fatal.

Many information calls were handled regarding road conditions, both from local people and from those in other parts who were planning to come here. Several patients were transported to the State Hospital in Concord, and one to the U. S. Veterans' Hospital in White River Junction, Vt.

Eight sets of fingerprints were made for the Navy, and twenty-four for state officials and for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Though no complete record is available, local police cooperated with State Troopers and County officials in a wide variety of cases, receiving from those officials in turn a full measure of cooperation and invaluable assistance.

FOREST FIRE PROBLEM SERIOUS

The year 1947 was one of the worst periods of drouth and forest fire occurrence in eastern United States history. Lack of water ruined crops, lowered water levels and dried up brooks everywhere. Three months of deficient rainfall and abnormally high temperatures resulted in many fires which were mostly well controlled and kept within bounds. Only the high winds beginning on October 23rd caused a few fires to escape beyond immediate control. These few fires resulted in burning some 15,000 acres and the loss of 63 or more buildings in four New Hampshire towns.

All October fires were costly. They burned deeply in the ground and required day and night patrol of large crews of men until the rains came late in October. Towns which escaped from serious fires might easily have been in the midst of the most serious conflagrations we had.

Governor Dale closed the woods effective at midnight of October 15th. With the blow-up of October 23rd, a second proclamation closed all back roads and authorized towns to inaugurate patrol. The effect of this was to cut down subsequent fires for the rest of the dry period.

Local fire warden forces performed an admirable job to hold the more than 200 fires that occurred during this October period. Many men were taxed to the utmost as the emergency continued. To them and all those who did their work, the people of New Hampshire owe a debt of gratitude. The state forest fire control agency based on local town wardens and town crews wherever adequately equipped rose to the occasion and met the test in whatever town their services were needed.

It is now time to take stock everywhere of our fire fighting facilities for the season ahead and to make them adequate where necessary. To this end town fire plans and training programs for wardens, deputies and other key men in each district are being arranged or in progress. If equipment and tools are insufficient properly to equip the available manpower in each community with the right tools for the job, they should be provided for at once. The yearly addition of fire tools to the town supply will generally need to be built up. The state sells tools to the towns and shares one-half their cost. Good equipment is important and can help greatly to keep both damage and fire costs at a minimum.

For many years we have requested our wardens not to issue burning permits except on rainy days. This regulation will be in effect again this year as it is one of the best means of assuring such fires from getting out of control. Nine out of every ten fires can be prevented, 98 percent of all fires being due to human carelessness. Be sure to get a permit for any fire in or near woodland when the ground is free from snow. Be sure your fires are always out before you leave them. Help us in getting the travelling public to keep from throwing out lighted matches or cigarettes. Be careful of all fires in or near woodland.

District Chief

The district debt of $45,000 should be reduced before a new building is constructed, but the expenditure of a few hundred dollars for plans for a North Conway building seems to me to be desirable. The law now permits a district to raise money to be put in a trust fund which may be used for new construction or for the payment of bonds when they mature.

One teacher was added to the Conway Grammar school last December to reduce the crowded conditions in grades 1 and 2. You will notice from Table No. 1 that the number of Conway pupils in each grade is much more than the 25-30 limit recommended. If the school population continues to increase in Conway village there is going to be a serious lack of space for the pupils of grades 1-6. Fortunately those who planned the high school provided room for a considerable increase in high school enrollment.

Table No. 1 also gives the list of teachers. You will notice that there is a man as teacher of grade 8 in Conway village. I believe it is desirable to have several men in the elementary field. Salaries are now getting so that men can be attracted to the positions, and they help to provide a better balanced faculty for the boys and girls in the upper elementary grades.

Conway is not yet providing a complete physical education program either in the elementary or secondary field. When money is available, the boys and girls would profit from such a program for grades 5-12 for the entire year. A director employed by the District could secure volunteer leaders in the summer time to carry on valuable training.

The Parent-Teacher Association in Conway has expanded the lunch facilities at the grammar school, and is feeding about 140 pupils a day. The North Conway Parent-Teacher Association has organized a lunch program, and is feeding about 125 daily. Both units are to be congratulated on the excellent contribution they are making to the welfare of the boys and girls. These lunch programs and the one at the high school are being run with the help of National School Lunch funds which contribute nine cents for each pupil meal.

The fact that the district owns one bus saved the taxpayers more than $2,500 last year. This merits real consideration. Many districts are now saving tax dollars by owning their own equipment. No registration fee or taxes on gasoline or tires are paid. With the ever increasing cost of public services a genuine effort must be made to reduce the expenditures wherever possible. The purchase of two buses by the district would save many tax dollars.

I appreciate the help and cooperation given to me by the School Board, town officials, all members of the school staff and citizens, and thank each one for this assistance.

HAMMOND YOUNG,
Superintendent of Schools

Headmasters Report

A PROGRESS REPORT OF KENNETT HIGH SCHOOL

Our school is concerned with the all around training and development of each boy and girl. Our whole scheme of things is so constructed that ample opportunity exists for each student to grow mentally, physically, socially and emotionally. Conscious of the ever important need to teach the three R's, something we are striving to do better than ever, there is also need to be concerned with the rate of growth in the development of the total personality. Our program aims at developing that type of personality that will best serve the needs and interests of the individual and society.

With these basic objectives as our guide, we have outlined a course of action that endeavors to include ample training and learning experiences in all these areas. This report, in a small way, will strive to give insight into life and activities, as they have existed at Kennett High School, during the first fifteen weeks of the 1947-48 school year. No attempt is made to pretend that this report is exhaustive in detail; rather, it is a portrayal of academic life, spiced with the student activities, that harmonize together to produce the modern American high school.

There is definite and concrete evidence of progress and growth, individually and collectively. Our constant aim is to give the youth of this area the best in American education. With the continued interest and cooperation among citizens, school board, the superintendent of schools and faculty, it will be impossible for our sights to waiver.

At the outset, I should like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to Mr. Ellis W. McKeen, for twenty-four years the headmaster of Kennett High School; who, as my predecessor, has laid most of the foundation work for whatever success our school as an educational institution may in any degree merit. As a counsellor and friend, he has been a source of constant inspiration and a veritable bulwark in ways too numerous to record in this report.

I should also like to thank Mr. Hammond Young, who, as my Superintendent of Schools, has been most understanding and helpful; and to our efficient and excellent faculty, the thanks and respect of a grateful headmaster.

GEORGE T. DAVIDSON, JR.

Facts and Figures on Kennett High School

Kennett High School opened for the 1947-48 academic year on Monday, September 8th, with a student enrollment of 264; and a faculty group of thirteen, not including the music supervisor and the school nurse. Since the opening of school, we have gained fourteen new students, but have lost seventeen during the fifteen-week period covered by this report. Of this number lost, one student passed away, seven have moved from town, three have left because of ill health, and six have dropped out because of working opportunities or lack of interest in high school work. It is interesting to note that included in the student body are two World War II veterans, both of whom are doing honor work. Three post graduates are attending the school, aiming at more thorough college preparation.

Student attendance at Kennett High School has been excellent, considering the many factors that affect its status. An attendance average of 95% has been maintained to date, with forty-six cases of tardiness recorded during the first 69 days of school.

In the field of commerce, a busy and industrious program is in operation. Nine students are pursuing a course of training in office practice, including one veteran. Twenty-three students are enrolled for bookkeeping, but four have dropped the course. In the first year typing and shorthand classes, there are twenty students; while in the advanced stenography classes, six students are enrolled. As a means of giving interested students a chance to acquire habits of effective typing procedure, a class in personal typing has attracted seventeen students.

In agriculture at the present time, there are fifteen freshmen and sophomores, and ten juniors and seniors. The first twelve weeks of school were devoted to academic work. The freshman and sophomore group studied dairy and beef cattle and hogs. Instruction trips were taken to nearby farms.

The junior-senior group studied vegetable and fruit growing. Many class instruction trips were taken, the most instructional one being to Smith Allard's potato farm. Here, the students could see the mechanical operation of digging, picking, and bagging potatoes. Shop work to date has involved wood-working, automobile mechanics, and forge work.

One of the features of the Home Economics Department is the home projects. Each freshman must complete three home projects on some phase of home economics or something related to it totalling approximately 90 hours. These projects must be approved by the parent before they are accepted by the teacher. The other three classes must complete four projects totalling between 120-135 hours of work and should be of superior quality because of their years. It is aimed to have every project useful and worthwhile, not just a "project."

Health and Physical Education

One of the major aims of any modern educational program is an up-to-date physical training program that encompasses all the members of the student body. Though we have not realized this objective at Kennett, we are making forward strides in the right direction, with the personnel and equipment available.

Student Activities

In an attempt to show evidence of opportunity for personal and social growth, a survey of some of the school's so-called extra-curricular activities will be made. Aiming to include as many interests and levels of ability as possible, this phase of the educational pattern is a vital one.

The school newspaper, the "Kennett Krier", is the school's chief vehicle of public relations. Written and edited almost entirely by the students, under the general supervision and direction of a faculty member; the newspaper this year has grown into a six page edition, appearing monthly and covering all phases of school life and activity.

Some form of extra-curricular public speaking organization or club is now in the initial stages of development at Kennett. About thirty-two students have expressed interest in participating in such an activity in the hope of gaining instruction and experience in various forms of public speaking beyond that offered in the regular curriculum.

Drama at Kennett is centered chiefly around the activities of the Dramatic Society and the school play in the spring.

The Dramatic Club consists of twenty members. One of the most popular of all school activities, one that is of major importance, is music. Under the expert and inspiring guidance of Miss May, the musical activities at Kennett have grown and progressed with a vigor that is gratifying. Approximately forty girls participate in the girls' choir, together with a smaller glee club and sextette. A boys' glee club of over thirty voices has also been organized, and the school orchestra is growing rapidly. The Tri-Hi-Y and the Hi-Y have both been active organizations and have contributed to the life of the school.

Miscellaneous Items

Our assembly programs this year have been of two main types; one featuring the student-participation variety, the other offering speakers and features from outside the school. Visual education has occupied an important niche in the scheme of things at Kennett.

Highway safety education is a new feature at the school, and though the present course being offered is a voluntary one and carries no academic credit; there are about forty-five students enrolled. In this same connection, a school highway safety squad has been organized which controls traffic in front of the school at the close of the school day.

Citizenship training and opportunity to learn through experience the ways and responsibilities of a democracy are important aspects of the modern school. Through the division of the school into ten home rooms, a structure of school government is created, similar to the federal system. The Headmaster's Council, consisting of representatives from each of these home rooms, serves in an advisory capacity to the headmaster, and offers assistance in the management of school activities. This group, this year, is making a survey of student government, and is visiting various other schools in an attempt to learn about the sundry types of student government.

The school cafeteria is serving hot lunches to a large percentage of the student body. Offering a well-balanced meal at cut-rate prices, each student is assured of a hot meal, together with milk and dessert.

Looking Into the Future

It is only natural that the school as an institution should be vitally concerned with the future. Making an honest attempt to meet the ever changing needs and interests of its student personnel, the administration is conscious of a responsibility that is paramount. Not content to remain static, we aim at continued growth and development. It is hoped that a course in contemporary civilization may be added to our curriculum; and that American history be offered in the junior year, instead of the senior year.

As suggested elsewhere, we hope to soon realize a full-fledged physical training program; one that will be corrective in nature as well as building. We hope to be able to expand our opportunities in Industrial Arts and Home Economics and to teach still more interested personnel in these areas. In the field of safety education, a start has been made, with the intention of eventual academic status for this all important phase of instruction. Looking into the still distant future, there is ample need for opportunity in the creative arts.

The question of reporting student progress to the pupil and to the parent is a challenging one. Careful study into this all-important phase of student report cards has been made by countless educational theorists. The effective report card must aim at giving as clear a picture as possible of student growth and development in the four important areas of academic, physical, emotional and social progress. With this thought in mind, we are attempting a new report card for next year, and a progress chart that we hope will give a complete picture of student growth in all these phases.

Certainly, one of the axes around which a school operates is the school library. This past year a new room adjacent to the office has been taken over for library purposes. With pressing need for more reference books, periodicals, and general purpose books, the library must by necessity grow in stature and value. Eventually, the importance of the library should be recognized as such that a part-time librarian should be employed to effectively organize and operate the library.

In the special field of vocational guidance, sources of information are constantly brought to the attention of all. Outside speakers, discussions, and a Vocational Interest Day have been vitally concerned with divulging this sort of guidance. Special classes in manners and social procedures have been organized as an outgrowth to daily participation in the classroom.

In an effort to improve scholarship, a faculty board has been created with the avowed purpose of helping the student help himself. Hoping to prevent student failure and to demand that the job be done on time, this group meets with the student in all cases where it is necessary.

Kennett High School is interested in providing the best educational opportunities to all students in this area. Aiming to meet the needs and interests of all students, it is conscious of its responsibility to serve the entire community; and with this thought in mind, education for all American youth should be a reality. Cooperation on the part of the school, the student, the home, and the town will make this goal within the realm of a reality.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE REPORTS

At the Annual School Meeting of Conway in 1946 a motion was voted to appoint a Special Committee with instructions to make studies and recommendations for improvements or reconstruction of the North Conway Grammar School.

At the Annual School Meeting in 1947 that Committee made a report recommending that certain immediate improvements be made. They also recommended that, because of obsolescence of the present building, plans and studies be obtained for a new building or a unit addition to the present building. At that time it was believed that the money for these plans would be available from a certain Federal Works Agency.

It was voted that this Committee be continued and that plans be obtained and studies made. However, by the time the application by the School Board for this money was presented those funds had all been expended.

With the assistance of the school superintendent, investigation of probable cost of such plans from private architects was made. We found that it is possible for us to obtain plans, studies and cost estimates from reputable architectural firms for a nominal cost. This Committee, therefore, recommends to the Annual School Meeting of 1948 that action be taken to raise a sufficient sum of money for this purpose; and that a Committee be appointed to continue this work.
